The plan of this Reporter being different from any other one published—viz: by describing the genuine bills as well as noting the counterfeit and fraudulent ones, enables any one to detect at a glance, by comparing the bill presented with the description in the Reporter whether it is genuine or not, or issued by the bank it purports to be from.

Every counterfeit that has ever been made has one or more mistakes in it. Our aim is to show what that mistake is.

Subscriptions may commence with any month. Remit by Drafts or Postal Orders. All letters must be addressed to The Prospects of Business.

The present dullness of business leads many people to paint a fearfully dark picture of the future. In the hard times that we now have they see only the beginning of trouble, and feel only the premonitory shock of a general crash. The situation is bad enough in fact without the aid of fancy. Trade is very dull; manufactures are comparatively stagnant, and a large number of workmen are out of employment. But it is folly to assert that we are on the eve of a great financial disaster, and that everything in the way of business is about to be shaken to pieces by an industrial earthquake. The truth is, that that we have already passed the worst point. Prices have fallen in most cases to their legitimate level. Economy has taken the place of extravagance, and the value of money begins to be appreciated. This state of things is only a natural reaction from the abnormal prosperity and reckless expenditure which prevailed while the rebellion was in progress. Trade is settling down in the old channels. Business men are awaking to the fact that the time has passed for making a fortune in a twelvemonth by the appreciation of goods. They are learning that reasonable profits afford judicious, careful, and economical management are required now. In short, the present dullness is merely equalizing the unnatural prosperity that lately existed. Further than that it will not go. There is no element of general disaster in the present situation, and the predictions of such evil are entirely without foundation. The finances of the country are sound, agriculture is in a thriving condition, and everything combines to make industry profitable. There is every reason to believe that business will be good in the Spring—not as was in 1865-5—but sound, healthful, and stable.

What Congress Should Do and Not Do.

The several committees of both houses of Congress on Ways and Means, Finance, Currency and Banking, the Revenue, and cognate subjects relating to our national finances, are busily at work, with a view to regulate the present disordered and oppressive state of things. First, the revenue system, or rather want of system, should be thoroughly overhauled and organized. At present it is in great disorder, very oppressive, ruinously expensive and full of corruption. It is hardly possible to find in the history of nations any revenue system so demoralizing both to the people and the government. In time of peace, and nearly three years after the war closed, we raise a revenue of over six hundred millions of dollars—that is, reckoning the gold receipts from customs in lawful money as well as the internal revenue. Great Britain, France or any other country does not raise anything like such a revenue. No people in the world are so heavily taxed. Yet seven years ago sixty to seventy millions a year were sufficient to carry on the government, and even that amount was considered extravagant. In seven years we have increased the revenue and burdens of the people nine fold. We should have thought this incredible seven years ago, and it is frightful to contemplate now. It is a war revenue nearly three years after peace was established—a revenue such as the richest and greatest empires would hardly venture to raise in time of war. Every one knows this stupendous amount is not necessary, even with the hundred and thirty to forty millions a year required to pay the interest on the debt. With economy in legislation and in the management of the Treasury Department half the present revenue should be ample. If we calculate the decreass of expenditure in collecting a revenue diminished by half, under efficient management the taxes would be reduced in a greater proportion. Nearly two-thirds of our present burden probably, might be taken off with safety. But this is not all. The government loses or is cheated out of something like a hundred and fifty millions a year by whiskey and other frauds as to the evidence has shown. Never was known before such a loose, extravagent and complicated revenue system. One of the first things Congress should do is to reduce taxation, to rasse an income from fewer articles and sources, and that chiefly from luxuries, and to simplify the whole machinery of collections and management of this department.

The N. Y. Herald suggests that the entire dept should be consolidated and bear five per interest. We have now a number and variety of forms of indebtedness, making great confusion and creating all sorts of gambling in and out of the Treasury Department. The various forms of debt might be converted into one of five per cent consols. This conversion to uniformity, with reduced interest, might be made without loss if the debt were payable at a long period. Still, that would not prevent the government from establishing a sinking fund or of buying up the debt from year to year with funds provided for that purpose. Indeed, the debt might be made payable fifty years hence, and yet all of it extinguished before maturity. Let us, then, have a uniform consolidated debt at a lower interest, and at the same time a sinking fund for its liquidation within as short a time as may be practicable. But the first step should be to pay off at once five hundred millions or so of the interest bearing bonds by an issue of legal tenders and by the surplus money in the Treasury. The interest-bearing debt might be reduced to fifteen or sixteen hundred millions within a year, and this at five per cent, would require only seventy-five to eighty millions a year to be raised for paying the interest on the whole debt.

With regard to the currency, there should be no further contraction. The country has settled down to the present amount of circullation and all values and transactions in business are based upon it. To contract would be most disastrous, as we have experienced lately, and would dry up the source of industry and the revenue of the government. The increasing population and active industry of the country will absorb all the currency, so that it will become, year after year, less abundant and more stringent relatively. In this way we shall grow up gradually to specie payments without any serious revulsion. These are the highly important subjects Congress should attend to during the present session and before the excitement of the Presidential election commences. They are not be postponed without serious injury. Simple, plain measures, such as common sense will dictate, are all that is necessary to place the national finances on a safe and stable foundation.

Beware of Forged Signatures.

In the Report of the Comptroller of the Currency, he states that National Currency, prepared for circulation (except the names of the President and Cashier) has been taken from packages at sundry times, mostly 50 and 100 dollar notes.

In 1864 some parkages sent to the West were found short, and that impressions were missed in 1865. One entire package of $4,500 in 50 and 100 dollar notes of the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass. In 1867 a package of $12,000, of the First National Bank of Jersey City was stolen. But few of these notes have yet been circulated we believe, and therefore our patrons can not be too careful in handling 50 and 100 dollar notes on the above banks. Examine the signatures with care.

NEW COUNTERFEITS. NATIONAL BANK BILLS

COUNTERFEITED.

Raised Bills.

10s, raised from 1s. Vig. of 1s, two female figures with hands clasped, one pointing npwards. 10s have figure of Franklin drawing electricity from the clouds, and on back of bill is DeSoto discovering the Mississippi. On back of 1s is the Landing of the Pilgrims. Well done.

50s, altered from a 5. The bills were altered from $5s to 50s by pasting "50" on the 5 on the corner, and over the "five" in the centre. It will be well to look out for them.

100s raised from 5s on the National Banks are in circulation.

Peoples' Nat'l Bank, Jackson, Mich.

5s, imit., the bill is roughly executed. The signatures of both president and cashier are printed; the neat figure of the two females, sitting, on the lower right, is almost invisible; in the genuine it is very clear and distinct. The back of the bill is still more bunglingly made than the front.

First National Bank, Whitehall, N. Y.
First Nat'l Bank of Rochester, N. Y.,
National Bank, Cherry Valley, N. Y.
Flour City Nat'l B'k, Rochester, N. Y.

10s, imit. This bill is well executed, and a dangerous counterfeit. The Die on the upper right end is very pale and has a speckled appearance in the imitation instead of a dark and lined appearance, as in the genuine; observe the small enrved line under word 'United;' in the imitation it connects the letters UNI, the genuine does not. The signatures are engraved, and the bill is ¼ inch longer.

Third National Bank, Philadelphia, Pa.

10s. imit.. letter B. Observe on upper right margin of the face of the bill the small words "National Currency" between small figures 10. The word "Currency" is spelled "Curreny." The shading of the words "Will pay" and "to Bearer" are heavy in the genuine but very light in the counterfeit. Also, the "P" in "Philadelphia" in imitation, runs below the rest of the letters. Genuine does not.

Merchants' National Bank, N. Y. City.

10s, imit.; The signatures are printed, and poorly done, and the numbering is blotched. The bill otherwise is well done.

Market Nat'l Bank, New York City.

10s, imit.; poorly done. Look out.

Highland Nat'l Bank, Newburgh, N. Y.

10s imit. The green color is as good on the imit. as the genuine, and the dies, figures and lettering on the back well done. The engraving of the pictures are as coarse as wood cuts, particularly the representation of De Soto discovering the Mississippi. The river is black and the canoes scarcely discernible without a magnifying glass, while in the genuine they are plain and distinct. The female riding on the eagle on the right end face of the bill has neither nose or mouth, and no toes to her feet. There are five curved lines between States and Washington in the gen. but only four in the imit. There are four curves under Treasurer in gen. and only three in imit. Paper thin and white.

Fourth Nat'l Bank, Phila, Pa

20s imit., face of bill is well executed, and will deceive good judges of money. The engraving of the Baptism of Pocahontas is coarse, and the figure 2 on the back of bill is very much different from the genuine; the one on the left is imperfect, and the 0 is larger than in the genuine. The words "imprisonment at hard labor" at the bottom of note run together, especially the 'd' and 'l,' which are almost in one.

Observe on counterfeit the butt of the musket on lower left corner touches the scroll work around figures "20," and the hand of the female on man's breast, the fingers can scarcely be seen. On genuine no part of the gun touches and the fingers are quite distinct. On counterfeit under the words "This note," where it reads "This note is secured," &c., there are but THREE flourishes—genuine has FOUR, also one between United and States, which is omitted in counterfeit. [Those lines can be added, however, in future impressions]. The letter 'a' in 'Treasurer' under Spinner's name is larger than the other letters, and while the counterfeit is the same length of genuine it is at least one quarter of an inch narrower. On counterfeit the shield beside the eagle on back of the note contains but six stars, and they are very imperfect—on genuine seventeen stars are visible.

First National Bank, Indianapolis, Ind.
" Chicago, Ill.

20s, imitation, L. E. Chittenden, Register. 1775 left off the imitation alongside the gun in the Battle of Lexington on the left end of the face of the bill.

First National Bank, Portland, Me.
" Portland, Conn.
" New Albany, Ind.

20s, imit. (2d kind) S. B. Colby, Register, are very finely engraved and well calculated to deceive; the engraving is much darker than the former, and has the following mistakes: the woman's face, arms and neck in the engraving of the Battle of Lexington are black, the genuine are white; the clouds back of the soldiers' heads are heavy and dark in the imit., but scarcely seen in the genuine; the Indian girl sitting on the gronnd (in the picture of the Baptism of Pocahontas) has a child on her lap in the genuine, but none in the counterfeit. The Indianapolis counterfeit has the child on her lap, and is more correct in design, but not in engraving. Look carefully at all 20s, as the plate can be altered to 1600 Banks by merely changing the name of the town.

First National Bank, Boston, Mass.

20s, imit., (3d kind) the left hand of the soldier holding the gun does not touch "D" in deposited —in genuine it does. Observe on counterfeit the butt of the musket on lower left corner touches the scroll work around figures "20," and the hand of the female on man's breast, the fingers can scarcely be seen. On genuine no part of the gnn touches, and the fingers are quite distinct. On counterfeit under the words "This note" where it reads "This note is secured," &c., there are but THREE flourishes—genuine has FOUR, also one between United and States, which is omitted in counterfeit. [Those lines can be added, however, in future impressions]. The letter "a" in "Treasurer" under Spinner's name is larger than the other letters, and while the counterfeit is the same length of genuine it is at least one-quarter of an inch narrower. On counterfeit the shield beside the eagle on back of note contains but six stars, and they are very imperfect—on genuine seventeen stars are visible.

Central National Bank, New York.
Ohio Nat'l Bank, Cincinnati.
First Nat'l Bank, Boston, Mass.

100s, imitation. The only way for the public to protect themselves will be not to take any $100 National Bank Notes, except they are received from sources of well known respectability. One of the peculiarities of the counterfeit we have referred to is the "T," in the word maintain, on the right hand of the bill, is defective, and looks like the letter "I." The counterfeiter, however, can soon remedy this defect.

LOOK OUT!

COUNTERFEIT GREENBACKS.

1s, (1st kind) can be readily detected by the inferior style of the engraving, particularly the head of Chase, The mouth is crooked, the eyes imperfect, and the hair on the top of the head resembles side hair brushed over to cover baldness. The back is of a lighter green than the genuine.

1s, (2d kind) the general appearance is very coarse and may readily be detected; green ink is very pale. On the imitation there is a BLACK STRAIGHT LINE under the red figures on the upper part of the bill; none in gen.

2s, imit., well executed. Coat of Hamilton badly done. The shirt bosom of Hamilton is very dark and uneven, but in the gennine white and plain. The shading of the words "UNITED STATES" light and broken.

5s, 10s, genuine notes without the red seal, and others reported without the usual number being printed upon them.

5s, imit., words "United States" heavily shaded. Gen. are clear, lightly shaded and plain. The words "Patented 30th June, 1857," under the words N. York are not on the counterfeit bill. All the counterfeits are letter A, and are ¼ inch shorter than the genuine.

On the new series of letter "A," around the figure of Liberty on left end is a plain black line. On the counterfeits, this line along the bottom of the figure running towards the right of the note forms two distinct lines, on gen. only ONE. But this may be a counterfeiter's dodge to have it described and alter it afterwards.

5s, imit., this bill is well calculated to deceive, and the only difference we can detect is in the die on the right end enclosing the figure 5. The genuine has three black circles enclosing the 5. The imit. has only two, and on lower right end figure 8, and on left end series 90.

10s alt'd from 1s, portrait of Chase on left.

10s imit. There are 16 small Xs on upper right margin, and only 15 on the genuine. The words "Printed by the National Bk Note Co." on lower left margin extends over 9 of the Xs on imit. and 8 on the genuine.

10s, imit., has 14 small x's on upper right margin—16 on left. The gen. has 15 x's each side of engravers name. Portrait of Prest. Lincoln is very coarse and pale looking; imit. are dated Washington, March 10, 1862, letter C.

20s, very close imit. of gen., the engraving is good, in the center figure the foot of the female can scarcely be seen. On the left end bottom are the words "Payable at the Treasury of the U. S. at New York." The A's in payable are too small and uneven. The letter 'R' in the word 'The' is not crossed in the centre. The imprint is defective; the green ink is of too light a color.

50s, alt'd from 2s, portrait of Hamilton on left centre. The vignettes of the two-dollar and fifty-dollar Treasury note are the same. Ingenious persons are counterfeiting the body of the fifties and using the vignettes of the twos, producing a note that deceives experts.

50s, imit. observe the figures 50 on back of the bill around the margin, the 5 in the imit. runs into the 0, gen. does not. The word 'FIFTY' around the above 50 can scarcly be read. Words 'LEGAL TENDER' is very much blurred. Letter C dated March 3, '63. On the left lower corner the No 550 instead of 50 enclosed in one circle.

50s, imit., observe the head of Hamilton, upon the face of the note, which represents the line of the waistcoat crossing the white collar at the neck. The acute angle formed by the shape of the collar, so far as it is shown, is perfect in the counterfeit note; but in the genuine the lines of the flesh were drawn by the engraver across the point of the collar at its junction with the waistcoat, for the purpose of relieving the angle of the sharpness it would otherwise have exhibited. This difference is not readily observed unless the notes are perfectly clean. The other discrepancy is in the shape of the ornaments in the border on each end of the face of the bills, and in the whole border on the back. The figures "50" are engraved on a green ground, of which the rim, in the genuine bill, is in octagonal form, rather well defined, though the angles are not sharp. The eight sides of what at first view appeared to be circles, may be easily discerned. In the counterfeit bill the border ornaments, containing the "50" are octagonal in only a very slight degree, and seem to be perfect circles. The general appearance of the counterfeit gives no indication of its true character.

100s, imit. the red figures are much larger than the figures of any Treasury Notes, the wings of the eagle are very coarse—the double rule running from it is heavier, and the curve twice as large, while there is a diagonal shading at the joint of the imprint with the rule, which does not appear on the genuine. On the right end of the back of the bill, the 100 in the circles are inverted, thus, 001. In the genuine this inversion is on the left end. The imprint, American Bank Note Co, is very uneven, and too large.

100s, imit., (2d kind) of the notes issued under the act of February, 1862, well executed. The spurious note is smaller, and the coloring on the back is paler than on the genuine bill. The words "one hundred dollars" on the right hand side of the counterfeit are smaller than on the genuine note.

100s, imit., (3d kind) the note is smaller than the genuine, the spread eagle is very coarse, and the shading of UNITED STATES is badly done. The bill is calculated to deceive.

COUNTERFEIT FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

Old Issue.

50s, imit., the portraits of Washington differs one from another; in the genuine they are all alike; the green color looks light and pale.

25s, imit., well executed. Look out.

2d Issue.

10s, imitation. All gen. on the top has the word "Depositaries," the imitation reads "Depositories."

50s, imit., have a pale slate color. The small barrels on lower right corner are very indistinct. The gen. have six barrels perfectly clear and plain Three on lower row, two on next, and one on top. The counterfeit barrels are black, and gen. are white.

50s raised from 5s.

3d Issue.

50c. imit.; two kinds of the new long 50 cent currency. The imitation of one kind has DISIGNATED on upper right corner instead of DESIGNATED. The second kind has designated correctly spelt, but on the little American Shield, under the Eagle, there is a black line drawn across the upright bars of the Shield. Not so on the genuine.

25s, imit., are very pale and coarse. The letter C in cents on left end is smaller than the other letters, and too far off.

New Issue.

25s, imit., well executed, but may be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word Treasurer under Spinner's name; the work is better than any we have previously seen and liable to deceive unless carefully examined.

25s, well executed; head of Chittenden; where it reads "Furnished only by the Assistant Treasurers" the Assistant is spelt "Assistatn." In the genuine the shading of the letter "E" in "Five" is unbroken, while the counterfeit has a little notch in it.

50s, well executed. The engraving on the face of the note is excellent. The adverse is slightly blurred. The notes are an eighth of an inch narrower than the genuine.

50s, the "y" in "Colby's" name crosses a line of the coat in the genuine, but not in the counterfeit.

50s, the line of stars on counterfeit between the figures "50" at the top and bottom of the back of the note have WHITE centres, while the entire stars on genuine are in green. The reading in black on the genuine note clear and distinct, while on the counterfeit the bronze is printed on the black, the words "FIFTY CENTS" being almost obliterated.

50s, well done. The last "e" in the signature of F. E. Spinner is omitted in some, and the (.) after print. on one end, and the d. after March 30.

50s. New and dangerous counterfeits of the last issue of the fifty cent fractional currency notes, which bear upon their face the head of Treasurer Spinner, have been detected by the Treasury Department. It can be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word print on the right end, and also under the letter "d"" in "March 3d," on the left end. The paper is thicker than that of the genuine notes, and the general appearance is calculated to deceive unless closely inspected.

Counterfeit Compound Interest Notes.

50s, imit., Compound Interest Notes, have a scratchy appearance, issue of July 15th, 1864. In the imitation the words "three years after date" on the top of the bill nearly touch the words "Treasury Department," while in the genuine there is a space of 1/16 of an inch between.

2d. In the imit. the last button of Hamilton's coat is ¼ of an inch from the lower margin of the small 50s, while in the gen. the button touches the margin.

100s, Counterfeit 6 per cent. Compound Interest Notes. The engraving as well as the paper and the ink stand the comparison to the genuine. The "U" in "United States" touches the die of the "100" on the left upper corner; on the genuine there is a space of 1/16 of an inch between.

COUNTERFEIT 7.30 BONDS.

First.—The seal is slightly larger than the genuiue; the red ink with which it is stamped is a shade lighter, and the points projecting from the seal are blurred and a little longer than the genuiue.

Second.—The imprint at the bottom of the face of the bond is set different in the margin, there being more space given it than in the genuine.

Third.—The borders of the coupon which are attached to the counterfeit bonds are larger, while the red figures are finer than in the genuine.

Fourth.—The borders of the ornamental lathe work are blurred and somewhat indifferently executed.

Fifth.—The figures denoting the bond are slightly uneven, while the blue ink in which they are printed is a duller blue and lacks the metallic glossy appearance of the genuine.

Sixth.—The lines forming the right shoulder of the female in the central viguette do not come up to the sword, but lea e a white space. In the genuine note the liuds are not only more numerous, but they come clearly and distinctly up to the sword.

On the back, the cycloid work upon which the words "pay to bearer" are engraved is much darker and heavier on the counterfeit than on the genuine; the counterfeit lines are rough, while the genuine are sharp and clear. In the date of the option the "Th" after June 15th is nearer to the figures 1868 in the genuine, while in the counterfeit the "Th" is some distance from the figures.

COUNTERFEIT COUPONS.

The following are the words on the coupons:

"Acts of July 17 and August 5, 1861. The United States of America will pay to bearer fifteen dollars for six months' interest due 1st January, 1867, upon bond No. 785, for $500. L. E. Chittenden, Register United States Treasury.

FIVE CENT COIN COUNTERFEITS

Are in circulation. They may be distinguished from the genuine by the softness of the metal

EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE, PARIS, 1867.
THE HOWE MACHINE CO.
ELIAS HOWE, JR., 699 BROADWAY, N. Y.
AWARDED OVER EIGHTY-TWO COMPETITORS.
THE HIGHEST PREMIUM.
THE ONLY CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR

given to AMERICAN SEWING MACHINES per Imperial Decree, published in the "Moniteur Universel" (Official Journal of the French Empire), Tuesday, 2d July, 1867, in these words:

ELIAS HOWE, JR. { Fabricante de Machines a coudre exposant. / Manufacturer of Sewing Machines, Exhibitor.

The Howe Sewing Machines are celebrated for doing the best work, using a much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine.

The new improved Family Machine is without a rival, and cannot be surpassed,—a Hemmer, Feller, Braider, Quilter and Guide go with each Family Machine, free of charge.

Every machine is as near perfection as the best machinery in the world can make it.

The parts being alike, if any part needs to be replaced, the operator can replace it.

Branches, or agencies, for supplying the "Howe Machines in nearly every city throughout the world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, or any information promptly furnished; or communications may be addressed for circulars, which will be sent free, to
